FAULTLESS FAMILY MEDICINE

"I have used Simmons' Liver Regulator for many years, having made it my only Family Medicine. My mother before me was very partial to it. It is a safe, good and reliable medicine for any disorder of the system, and if used in time is a great preventive of sickness. I often recommend it to my friends, and shall continue to do so."
—Rev. James M. Rollins, Pastor M. E. Church, So. Fairfield, Va."

TIME AND DOCTORS' BILLS SAVED BY
always keeping Simmons' Liver Regulator in the house.

"I have found Simmons' Liver Regulator the best family medicine I ever used for anything that may happen, have used it in Indigestion, Colic, Diarrhoea, Biliousness, and found it to relieve immediately. After eating a hearty supper, if on going to bed, I take about a teaspoonful, I never feel the effects of the supper eaten."
—"OVID G. SPARKS, Ex-Mayor Macon, Ga."

STOCK NOTES.

Mule raising is on the increase in Texas.
Governor Hadley is still punching the dressed beef men.

Denver is agitating the question of having a fat stock show.
The English Shorthorn society now numbers 1,183 members.

The Waco Star and Crescent reports cattle dying with murrain in Abilene, Texas.
Broken-ribbed and bruised cattle are docked $5 per head in the Chicago market.

The recent report of pleuro-pneumonia in Texas proves to have been only Texas fever.
Buck Taylor, a cowboy riding for Buffalo Bill's Wild West Show in London receives $200 per month salary.

W. H. Griffin, of Dripping Springs, has lost about sixty head of cattle through Indian depredations this year.

Every stockman seems to have a plan to increase the stock business, but the trouble is they are all different.

The great Texas cattle trail will soon be a thing of the past. This will be about the last year that cattle will be driven from Texas over a trail.

More than $900,000,000 is now invested in the plains cattle business, and $150,000,000 worth of matured cattle are disposed of annually in the East and Europe.

Cattle exports during June were 13,842 against 11,472 in June 1886. Exports for twelve months ending June 30 were 90,145 against 115,819 same time last year.

The El Paso Inter-Republics states that a committee has been organized at Flagstaff to punish cattle thieves. The strange part of the story is that people here know nothing about it.

An English surgeon claims to have discovered a certain cure for pleuro-pneumonia in cattle, and the British government has placed a sum of money at his disposal to experiment with.

Charles A. De Grif, known for several years as prominently identified with Minnesota's blooded stock interests, died from cancer of the stomach at St. Paul on Monday of last week.

The interior department has information that all fences on public lands in New Mexico and Arizona have been removed and that the law forbidding the maintaining of illegal fences here is everywhere practically complied with.

Arizona is beginning to supply Southern California with horses' a shipment of 150 head being recently made to Los Angeles which met with ready sale at good prices. It is said that Arizona will at no distant day be able to furnish horses for all of Southern California. Hoof and Horn.

In the year 1790, George Washington killed 150 hogs for family use and they only weighed 18,000 or an average of 120 pounds apiece, and this would not last his 240 farm hands over a half a year. What farmer equals the rather of his country and has to kill 150 hogs a year. Geo. must have been fond of roast pig, or else Virginia porkers were mostly snout, back bone and tail, or we have made great progress in one hundred years.

It is decided to be not a legal fraud to misrepresent land which the buyer himself sees. A purchaser of a tract of Nebraska land which he had seen, gave his note in part payment. Upon maturity of the note he resisted payment on the ground that the value of the land had been misrepresented to him, but the supreme court of Pennsylvania decided that as he had seen the land before making the purchase, the overstatement as to the value did not amount to a fraud in his particular case.

The difference between grades and scrubs is being noticed in many parts of the northwest. Here is an instance: The Albert Lea Enterprise says: Last week Clarence Wedge sold to C. E. Richardson two steers which were alone enough to convince the most skeptical that it pays to raise good stock. The first was a two-year-old steer, 15-16 Shorthorn, weighing 1,270 pounds, while the latter was a three-year-old scrub which weighed only 1,130 pounds, a difference of 140 pounds in favor of the two-year-old. But this was not all the difference, as the Shorthorn brought 4 1/2 cents per pound, Mr. Wedge informed us that the two steers received as nearly as possible the same care and while the younger brought $57.15, the other only returned $48.02. What better argument is there that full blood stock pays?—Stockgrower.

Jerry W. Sullivan, who probably ships more cattle than any other man in Arizona, predicts a big boom in live stock within the next two years, basing his predictions that within that time all the evils of reckless haste in disposing of the cattle as well as unripe and immature stock, will become fully apparent to all in the shape of great scarcity of not only marketable, but breeding stock. Mr. Sullivan states that when the reaction does come it will not be a violent one, but of such a character as will ensure to it greater permanency and stability than any cattle boom heretofore. As Mr. Sullivan has spent about thirty years in the range stock business, during which time he has ranged all the way from Oregon to Arizona and managed to pick up a handsome fortune on the road, his opinion is entitled to some consideration.—Hoof and Horn.

SHEEP AND WOOL.
Chalk used in doses of from one-half an ounce to an ounce is a valuable remedy for dysentery in sheep.

Thirteen Montana shearers clipped the fleeces off of 800 sheep in one day. So says the Husbandman. This was done by the famous "Stonebreaker's" crew.

Colorado has a million and a half of sheep. New Mexico has many more and Arizona a million and a half. Wyoming has a half million, and Utah not many less than three quarters of a million of the woolly tribe. Here is one-twentieth of the sheep of America, and yet in all this expanse of country—three thousand miles from the sea beard, and therefore three thousand miles from the great manufacturing centers that convert the raw material into fabrics of wear and commerce—not so much as a spindle is run or a scouring establishment constructed. A woolen factory at some point in the southwest would be one of the most valuable industries that could be started. All of our wool is now shipped to the east or to the Pacific Coast and the cost of the freight on a single train of this would construct and equip a scouring establishment that would save the freight now paid on millions of pounds of useless grease and dirt.

The following is from the last issue of Bradstreet: At Boston no change has appeared in the wool market this week, except that more frequent inquiries have been made by manufacturers. Purchases have not increased to any extent, both sellers and buyers pursuing a waiting policy. There is a fair demand for medium descriptions, but fine fleeces are neglected and weak. Prices in the general range are unchanged. The sales of the week are reported at 1,870,000 pounds, against 1,360,000 pounds last week, and 4,628,000 in the same week last year. The Boston wool market continues dull and easy in buyers' favor. The Philadelphia market has continued very quiet. Mills are buying only for urgent wants unless they can secure sharp concessions, which the majority of owners are unwilling to make. Manufacturers are using a good deal of shoddy and cheap foreign wools to lessen the cost of products in competition with foreign goods. This adds to the dullness of the market for home grown wools. Stocks are light and receipts continue small as dealers are unwilling to stock up at ruling rates in the interior.

Good Results in Every Case.
I. A. Bradford, wholesale pyper dealer of Chattanooga, Tenn., writes that he was seriously afflicted with a severe cold that settled on his lungs; had tried many remedies without benefit. Being induced to try Dr. Fing's New Discovery for Consumption, did so, and was entirely cured by use of a few bottles. Since which time he has used it in his family for all Coughs and Colds with the best results. This is the experience of thousands whose lives have been saved by this Wonderful Discovery. Trial Bottle free at D. J. Brannen & Co.'s Drug Store.
